About the Project

Project ID: 101091146

Project Duration: 01.01.2023.– 01.12.2024

The project addresses the research component through practical methods and education of rural young people vulnerable to energy poverty in their households, supporting the energy transition in rural areas located in Western Balkan. The project is foreseen to last 24 months, and it will involve 5 partners (4 partners from Western Balkan (WB) and two from EU).

The main goal of the Project GETA is to develop tools and new forms of training schemes to empower youth workers to become energy advisors and train rural youth to push for a smart energy transition in rural areas.

Objectives

Empowering youth workers in becoming energy advisors with high quality expertise through competencies in energy efficiency and renewable energy through Non Formal Education methods.

Engaging rural youth in assessing the level of energy poverty and addressing recommendations for energy transition of rural areas through the GETA app.

Disseminating the results and the methodology of the project with full exploitation of the possibilities provided by the online environment, as well as offline means.

Expected results

○ 1 Research report with overall energy poverty challenges in EU and WB.

○ 20 youth workers will acquire skills for addressing the energy poverty.

○ 1 GETA app, online source is developed.

○ 50 rural youths will be engaged in local events in testing the GETA app.
